

Conducting masterclass Brass Band Limburg en Ivan Meylemans

Dear,

Brass Band Limburg (BBL) has succeeded in finding Ivan Meylemans willing to give a unique conducting masterclass. A conducting masterclass with a Brass Band is not very common and this opportunity is a very valuable addition to the CV of (upcoming) conductors.

Brass Band Limburg asks you to bring this masterclass to the attention of your Wind- and Brassband conducting students and to invite them to participate. The conductor masterclass will take place on Saturday 5 March 2022. The location will be Muziekcentrale Adams in Ittervoort. In the morning there will be a theoretical session in which all questions may be fired. In the afternoon, under the direction of Ivan Meylemans, we will work with Brass Band Limburg and in the evening there will be a presentation concert in which active candidates will be selected to conduct a work, or part of it. There is room for 8 active participants and for passive participants there is no limit.

The costs for active participation are € 75,00 including a lunch, scores provided by Brass Band Limburg and a certificate as proof of participation. For passive participation the fee is € 35,00 including lunch and a certificate of participation.

You can apply by sending a motivation letter + CV to info@brassbandlimburg.nl. The application period closes on 14 February 2022.

On February 20th the board of Brass Band Limburg will decide whether the masterclass can take place because of the corona measures that are in place at that time. Of course the masterclass will be corona proof. Participants will receive details after registration.

With musical greetings,

The board of Brass Band Limburg
